PRINCE DECLARES U.S. ARMY CAPTAIN BEAT HIM IN HOME

MERICK, N. T., Sept. 7.—Prince Ludovic Pignatelli d'Aragon, who appeared as complainant to prefer a charge of assault in the third degree against Capt. Edmond L. Haas, U. S. A., before Justice of the Peace Norton in Belimore, said today that he will not live at his house on Hempstead boulevard with his wife, the former Miss Ruth Waters, and heireas to the Jason Waters millions, until this matter is settled to his satisfaction. He declared that until he has had "justice" he will reside in a New York hotel. York hotel.

The prince says that his wife was The prince says that his wife was the hostess at a rather gay party Wednesday evening, at which Captain Hass, James Ford, and others were guests. The prince says he objected to Captain Hass' presence. When he returned home at night he found the affair in full swing. He demanded that the affair come to an end and that all the men guests 'eave the bouse instantly. The response—hoots, jeers, and insults—was enough to make him furious. What followed then was not ex-plained satisfactorily, but the prince telephoned for a constable, and when one arrived Captain Haas and Ford one arrived captain hass and Ford were pummeling Pignatelli, he says.

He ordered Hass arrested. He did not press any charges against Ford.
Justice Norton heard the preliminary testimony, and held Captain Hass in $200 bail for a hearing on September 12, when the latter entered his plea of not guilty.

The prince said that Captain Haas had dined with the Princess Pignatell at Long Beach recently. That is what incensed him so much, he says, and he is fully determined to stick it out in the New York hotel until the prin cess comes around to his way of see ing things.
